Forecast for Tuesday 12 Jul 2022

Weather: The morning will be dry although rather cloudy. Areas of low cloud will edge southwards through the afternoon, although southern fells may remain dry and bright until late afternoon. Staying mostly dry in the afternoon, although a little drizzly rain possible across ranges closest to the Irish Sea coast. Dry and clearer weather will extend south across all ranges in the evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 60%, best chance in afternoon the south.

Low cloud and visibility: Very good in the morning with good air clarity, some thin patchy cloud around 350 metres at first around Ulverston and Broughton in Furness. Low cloud will slowly become more extensive from the north in the afternoon, down to 700 to 900 metres, but some uncertainty in the timing of this.
